

Judge Retorts Kin Must Aid To Grand Jury; Report Burned

Bettencourt Declares State's Funds Not County Concern

While 1937 Grand Jury Foreman P. R. Rorke announced that the asserted sensational state gambling report on San Mateo county had been consigned to the fire and District Attorney Gilbert D. Ferrell declined to talk, Justice of the Peace Manuel J. Bettencourt of Half Moon Bay, criticized by the jury Monday arose to defense of the conduct of his coastside officers.

Judge Bettencourt, singled out by the grand jury for particularly pointed criticism regarding handling of his accounts, presented his side in an official statement, pointing out that he had not been accorded the courtesy of a hearing by the grand jury before it presented its findings and allowed itself to be discharged.

REPORTS PROPERLY KEPT

In his statement, Judge Bettencourt declared:

"Any and all books that have ever been maintained in, and furnished to this court by San Mateo county have at all times been kept up in proper and correct order, and every cent of money received at any and all times, other than fish and game violation fines, has always been properly turned over to the county treasurer on the first day of each and every month."

"There was absolutely nothing to the contrary in this respect," he maintained.

"The jury auditors characterized Judge Bettencourt's accounts as 'meager,' and pointed out that some $469 collected in fish and game law cases had not been transferred to the state."

DEPOSITED IN BANK

Judge Bettencourt explained that the income from such fines is deposited regularly in a special bank account, and a fish and game warden, present at each trial, forwarded the necessary information to the state. This information would be tabulated by the state which in turn would forward a statement to the justice.

"As soon as received, in every case, a remittance from the said special bank account for the full amount of said statement, would be immediately mailed to the State of California," Judge Bettencourt maintained.

"In all of these proceedings the relationships and transactions by and between the state's representatives and this court have always been satisfactory and most agreeable on both sides."

SUSPENDED TERMS

"In every case that carried a part suspended cash sentence, the court had purposely imposed an excessively heavy sentence as compared with the degree of misdemeanor committed, in order that the defendant, after having paid to the court at the time of pronouncing of sentence, a large part—not a small part—of the sentence thus imposed, would thereafter still have in his mind for some time the fact that there still existed the matter of his six months' suspended sentence. If the defendant, in each of these particular cases should have at any time afterwards come into court and voluntarily paid any part or all of his suspended sentence, then it would have been immediately recorded and paid over to the county treasurer."

Kin Must Aid Needy People

Faced with an increasing number of applicants for aid under the old age security law, the county social welfare department today prepared to turn to the district attorney for aid in forcing legally responsible relatives to assist needy aged persons.

"Recent changes in the Old Age Security Law, particularly the lifting of liens on real property, have caused a sharp increase in aged aid applications," declared Dr. Charles C. Gans, director of health and welfare. "However, certain other changes have thrown a very definite responsibility on relatives of aged aid applicants which should have a deterrent effect."

"It is evident that the spirit of the new legislation is to assure aid to the aged person who is actually in need but it also provides for recovery for such aid from relatives who are unwilling, but financially able, to aid the aged person."

To eliminate any doubt on legal responsibility, Dr. Gans is sending to relatives of applicants copies of the following code section:

"If the person receiving aid has within the state a spouse or adult child pecuniarily able to support said person, the board of supervisors shall request the district attorney or other civil legal officer of the county granting such aid to proceed against the kindred in the order of their responsibility to support. Upon such demand the district attorney or other civil legal officer of the county granting aid shall, on behalf of said county, maintain an action, in the superior court of the county granting such aid, against said relatives, in the order named, to recover for said county such portion of the aid granted as said relative is able to pay. Any sum so recovered shall be credited by the county and to the state in proportion to the contributions of the county and the state respectively."

Retired Pescadero Rancher Succumbs

SAN MATEO, Nov. 8 — Amura Francis Kent, 71, retired Pescadero rancher and resident of San Mateo for the past 10 years, died early today at his home in San Mateo.

Mr. Kent is survived by his wife, Mrs. Elizabeth A. Kent, and four stepchildren, Rufus Steele, Burlingame; Wilford Steele, Berkeley; Mrs. Harry Allen, and Mrs. Bernice Stinson, both of San Mateo.

Administration of the Virgin Islands was transferred from the navy to the interior department in 1931.

RORKE, FERRELL SILENT

Rorke, beyond announcing that he had burned up Atty. Gen. U. S. Webb's report on gambling conditions in San Mateo county, declined to discuss the jury's work.

The report purported to show the names and places where gambling devices were located. District Attorney Ferrell likewise declined to issue a statement, indicating that he had no desire to become embroiled in any controversy at "this late date." Ferrell recently issued a statement to law enforcement officials urging them to check closely on all establishments where gambling might be suspected.

Coroner and Public Administrator William F. Crosby also issued a statement indicating that he welcomed "constructive criticism."

DEATH MISSES COUNTY ROADS; MANY INJURED

Eight Autos Pile Up In One Accident On Baysshore

Broken bones, gashes made by the razor-like edges of flying glass splinters, but no deaths.

These were the peninsula toll of the heavy week-end traffic. And police believed the toll light when they considered that an eight-car smashup late Saturday in San Mateo offered possibilities of being one of the worst wrecks in the grim history of county highways.

Only three persons were hurt in this crash, and it was a pedestrian, John Garavaglia, 55, of Menlo Park, who was the most seriously injured of the week-end victims. Garavaglia was struck on El Camino Real, Redwood City, late Saturday night by a car driven by 19-year-old Victorine Boetto, 1328 El Camino Real, Menlo Park. Garavaglia suffered a fractured skull and compound fracture of the leg. His condition at Community Hospital was said to be good, considering the seriousness of his injuries.

The eight-car pileup that occurred just south of the Burlingame-San Mateo city line, opposite Pacific City, had its origin in a collision between machines driven by Peter Riscornia, San Francisco, and John McNally, San Mateo. Riscornia's truck was overturned and his passenger, Mrs. Rose Camillo, 47, also of San Francisco, was badly cut about the head.

Rushing to aid Mrs. Camillo, trapped in the truck as it lay on its side, Salvatore Scaletta, San Mateo, employee of a cleaning firm there, was struck by a machine operated by Robert Caster, San Francisco. Scaletta incurred leg and head injuries.

While San Mateo police strove to disentangle the wreckage three other cars, with their drivers trying to avoid crashing into the tangle of cars, crashed together. The drivers were Everett Callopy, San Francisco; Carl Hill, Burlingame, and Ramon Espinoza, San Francisco.

And still worse was yet to come. Three more cars, halted suddenly when drivers were warned by red flares set out by police, crashed into one another. The drivers were Morris Estes, 1211 Heller street, Redwood City; Raymond Sanruietta, San Mateo, and George Kimball, San Francisco.

The third person to be injured in the series of wrecks was Margorie Marone, 21, 596 California avenue, Palo Alto, who was riding with Estes. She suffered a cut head and injuries to her left hand. The injured were treated at Mills Memorial Hospital and released.

Petty Theft Charged Caddy by Morrisseys

Charges of petty theft allegedly committed several months ago when he was a visitor in the Woodside road home of the late Harry Morrissey, race track starter, today faced Herbert D. Ferrell, 26, caddy residing at 1147 Main street.

Ferrell was arrested by Redwood City police late Monday afternoon accused of stealing nearly $200 worth of silverware, clothing and other private possessions from the Morrissey home. Only a portion of the loot was recovered, according to police.

DEMONSTRATE HOW OILS ACT

W. S. Wright (left) and R. B. Keeler, Union Oil Company research engineers, demonstrating the machine devised by Wright to show how various oils act in a crankcase at colder temperatures. Four U-shaped tubes containing four different oils are lowered into a bath of kerosene which may be chilled with dry ice to as low as 50 degrees below zero for the test. With the hand pump a vacuum is then applied to the tubes. The pumpability and viscous character of the different oils then can be noted.

SERVICE AND SAFETY

At the annual congress of the National Safety Council, held in Kansas City, Missouri, October 11-15, Union Oil Company Service Stations were awarded a bronze plaque in recognition of their outstanding safety record for the first six months of 1937. This department had the lowest accident frequency among all major petroleum retail marketers in the United States during the six months period. At a meeting of the company's safety board, the plaque was formally presented to A. C. Stewart, manager of service stations by R. E. Haylett, director of manufacturing and chairman of the safety board.

Paul Madsen Guilty Of Payroll 'Chiseling'

Paul Madsen, former peninsula playground and recreation director, is guilty of having plotted to "chisel" WPA funds. He was found so by Federal Judge Roche in San Francisco.

According to the testimony of Joseph Lawler, bartender, Madsen kept him on the WPA payroll though he was not working. Madsen, former Methodist preacher in the Richmond district

WIDOW WINS CHINN ESTATE

Will of Austin B. Chinn, who died October 27, was filed for probate in the superior court here. Chinn left an estate valued at $11,000 to his widow, Mrs. Nannie W. Chinn of Menlo Park. Bulk of the estate is property in Sacramento and Red Bluff.

of San Francisco, was once employed in Redwood City and also supervised play programs in other peninsula cities. Madsen will be sentenced November 20.

3 OTHER HANGINGS RECALLED

Milligan Would Not Be First From County To Be Executed, After All

"If Mike Milligan hangs, he will be San Mateo county's first murderer to be hanged."

That statement, made several times in the press in regard to the South San Francisco murder suspect who went on trial Tuesday.

was rightly disputed here by two Redwood City pioneers, who backed up their assertions with proof in the form of newspaper files.

At least three other persons have been sentenced to hang from San Mateo county and have subsequently paid with their lives on San Quentin's gallows for murder, they recalled.

Mrs. Joel H. Mansfield of 728 Arguello street, widow of the early-day sheriff and mother of City Attorney Albert Mansfield, and James D. Hedge, 445 Arlington road, Standard Printing Company proprietor, both called attention of The Tribune to the early hangings.

They believe that it was on April 8, 1898, that San Mateo county's first legal hanging victim was executed. (There are unconfirmed stories of previous lynchings.) He was C. H. Raymond. With Harry Winters, hanged December 8, 1899, and James Willets, imprisoned for life, he had committed murder during a robbery November 16, 1897, at South San Francisco, then known as Baden.

Victim of the shooting, which took place in the Grand Hotel, was C. A. Andrews, a boarder there. He had come to the aid of Proprietor Patrick Ferrier, only to be shot in the stomach by Raymond.

Capture of the three was effected by Sheriff Mansfield, the trio having fled the city immediately after the crime. Raymond was captured by Officer Heuve near the county line from descriptions broadcast by Mansfield. Winters was caught by Mansfield in a saloon on Teahama street, San Francisco. Willets was captured in Arizona on information furnished by Sheriff Mansfield.

ONE GAINED LIFE TERM

Willets pleaded guilty and won a life prison term, but Winters and Raymond, prosecuted by District Attorney Walker, were found guilty of murder in the first degree and were sentenced to death by Judge George H. Buck, now living in retirement at 1231 Jefferson avenue, Redwood City.

All three men had previous prison records.

This crime occurred only a short time after the other one, which resulted in a man's hanging, but his execution did not take place until June 29, 1900, due to a mistrial and legal delays.

The victim was Thomas Flannely, who had murdered his father, Patrick Flannely, in Redwood City October 26, 1897, during a dispute over the son's operation of a dairy ranch here which the elder Flannely had given the boy.

BARRICADED IN BARN

Young Flannely then fled. Mrs. Mansfield recalls, and her husband, then a deputy sheriff, and Sheriff W. P. McEvoy traced him to his ranch, where he had barricaded himself in his house.

When they broke in, Flannely fired at them, the first bullet wounding both McEvoy and Mansfield in their arms. McEvoy was rendered helpless, but Mansfield continued the duel until he forced Flannely to surrender.

Brought back to the Redwood City jail, Flannely was threatened with lynching when Sheriff McEvoy died of blood poisoning two days later, but Mansfield, working a ruse, succeeded in having the prisoner transferred to the county jail at San Jose.

Mrs. Mansfield clearly recalls the case.

"George Lovie was fire chief then," she remembers. "My husband got hold of him and had him sound an alarm for the other side of town. Everybody left the jail to go to the 'fire,' which wasn't a fire at all. While they were gone, Joe got the prisoner out, got a rig from a livery stable, and had Flannely taken to San Jose."

Mansfield at the time was suffering from his arm wound.

Flannely's first trial was at San Jose, but it resulted in a jury disagreement, according to Mrs. Mansfield. He later was tried in Redwood City and sentenced to hang, she said. Hedge was under the impression that Flannely's sentence was given in San Jose. The hanging is recorded in the Redwood City Democrat of July 5, 1900.

It was the unfortunate murder

Coffee Making Secret Bared

"I just can't seem to make good coffee."

"My husband is always complaining about my coffee."

If you've heard remarks like these from your friends at one time or another, perhaps even made them yourself, you'll be happy to know that the problem can be simply solved.

To obtain perfect satisfaction in the cup, it's only necessary that you take the same exacting care in brewing that the manufacturer does in blending, roasting, and packing the coffee. The last step of coffee manufacturing takes place in the home. If you fail to do your part properly, all the efforts of the coffee roaster to endow his product with the skill of experience are of no avail.

Now the long-felt need for complete, thorough, authoritative information about proper coffee-making has been met, for Hills Bros. of San Francisco, coffee roasters for sixty years, have published an interesting booklet entitled "The Art of Coffee-Making."

Dedicated to "perfection in the brewing of good coffee," the book has 22 chapters dealing with every phase of coffee-making in the home.

According to Hills Bros.' experts, the five essential rules for making good coffee are:

1. Measure both coffee and water accurately.
 2. Time coffee-making carefully.
 3. Keep coffee-maker clean.
 4. Never boil or overheat coffee.
 5. Serve coffee as soon as possible after it is made.

House Damaged In Sunday Fire; Cause Is Probed

Investigation of a $300 fire was underway today by Fire Chief Mark E. Ryan after a vacant house at 20 Poplar avenue off Woodside road was partially destroyed Saturday night.

The blaze broke out in the rear of the structure shortly before 7:25 o'clock. When firemen arrived a few minutes later on a call from alarmed neighbors, the conflagration had reached serious proportions, threatening homes on either side which stood approximately 20 feet away, Chief Ryan said.

The chief declared he believed the fire had been set, as indicated by evidence found on the scene. The building has been for rent through the Holt Realty Company.

Three other fires, all without resultant damage, enlivened the fire department's week-end.

Saturday afternoon a hedge at 1305 Arguello street was partially burned.

An automobile blaze Sunday morning at Middlefield road and Spruce street was extinguished without trouble.

Two youths, both minors, were held responsible by Chief Ryan for causing a Sunday afternoon grass fire along Baysshore highway near the Frank tannery. The chief absolved the boys of any malicious intent.

Commission's Plan Approved
By SupervisorsJames, Opposing, Fails
To Secure Delay
In Action

By a three to one vote, the board of supervisors on Wednesday approved a recommendation of the San Mateo County Fiesta Commission that horse racing be added to the annual county floral fiesta. The action came after an hour and a quarter of heated cross-fire between proponents and opponents of horse-racing.

Champion of the plan to bring 14 days of racing income to the fiesta was Supervisor Fred E. Beer. He was bitterly opposed by Supervisor James S. James, who tried by parliamentary maneuvering to delay the action. Supervisors Hugh H. Smith and Alvin S. Hatch sided with Beer. Supervisor John W. Poole was absent. He is on vacation.

The scheduled public hearing on the question found less than a dozen persons appearing.

Bruce S. Gibson, chairman of the fiesta commission, appeared before the board armed with a letter from William P. Kyne, manager of the Bay Meadows race track, assuring the county free use of the racing plant so long as Kyne is in charge.

Gibson indicated that the application for racing dates will be made at the meeting of the state racing commission December 7 in San Francisco.

One protest filed with the board was signed by Sidney H. Buckham, representing 16 ministers in the San Mateo-Burlingame Ministerial Association. The letter indicated that the association may withdraw its support from the fiesta if it is connected in any way with gambling.

County in T. B.
'Free' Group

Four more California counties including San Mateo have been declared modified accredited bovine tuberculosis free areas by the bureau of animal industry, U. S. Department of Agriculture, according to announcement of the state department of agriculture.

The other counties added to the list today are San Joaquin, Sutter and Alpine, bringing to a total of 26 the counties in California in which the presence of bovine tuberculosis has been reduced to less than one-half of one per cent. Dr. C. U. Duckworth, chief of the state department of animal industry, who announced the favorable action of the federal government in the application for official recognition of the successful efforts to reduce the cattle disease, said that livestock owners in the four counties had given excellent cooperation in the bovine tuberculosis testing programs.

Dr. Duckworth said it was the hope of state and government officials that at least eight more counties would be accredited by the first of the new year.

Chest Ready In Fortnight

Redwood City's proposed Community Chest will be organized within two or three weeks, according to hopes expressed by J. A. Buhler, committee chairman, at the meeting of the Exchange Club Tuesday.

W. W. Hendricks, chairman of last night's meeting, introduced Robert Bebb, Sequoia high school student, who spoke on American Education Week.

The club voiced its support of the new Redwood City Municipal Band, and welcomed as a new member Dr. R. Lee Otis, its director.

Population trends indicate that in 1960 there will be 14,247,000 persons in the United States over 65 years of age.

The term "baker's dozen" dates back to early English days when tradesmen, fearing anti-fraud laws, often gave 13 articles to a dozen.

Holdup of East P. A. Tavern Is Confessed

Patrick C. Jones and John F. Zylstra, jailed by G-men in Portland for transporting a stolen car across a state border, have confessed to the robbery of Mora's Tavern, East Palo Alto, according to word received by Sheriff James J. McGrath today.

Both men pleaded guilty to Dyer act charges. Jones has been sentenced to four years at McNeil's Island and Zylstra is awaiting sentence.

When confronted with the report that they had been positively identified by Henry Mora Jr., victim of the September 6 holdup, they admitted the crime, a witness stated. They entered guilty pleas to the federal charge October 31. A "hold" on the pair has been filed by San Mateo county authorities.

Cesar Romero, the movie actor, was dancing in a New York night club when stage producer Brock Pemberton drafted him for a role in "Strictly Dishonorable."

SOME NEW HOLLYWOOD "TRICKS"

Dixie Dunbar knows the "yummy" mixtures that make big hits during the holiday season when the best ideas afloat are much sought after. "They're so easy to prepare, too," says Dixie, deftly spreading an array of tasty oven-fresh Snow Flake crackers with an assortment of delectable cheese, egg, ham, fish, olive and other mixtures which she first mixes in separate bowls. Dixie Dunbar, the vivacious young dancing actress who is seen in Shirley Temple's "Rebecca of Sunnybrook Farm" soon to be released by 20th Century-Fox and who's featured in that studio's "Sing and Be Happy," is a charming hostess among Hollywood's younger set.

Cigar Firm to Pay For Damage to House

Arrangements were being made today by the Bouquet-Cohn Cigar Company of San Francisco to pay for damage done at 4:30 a.m. Sunday when their truck, driven by John G. Miller, 26, of Sunnyvale, struck the home of Mrs. T. O. Heydenfeldt on El Camino Real at Finger avenue, damaging a power pole and crashing through the fence and porch of the residence, shearing off a water pipe before stopping.

The crash awakened the Heydenfeldt family, who thought an earthquake had occurred, members said. Miller said that he had fallen asleep

Orient Strife History Told

The historical background of the trouble now raging between China and Japan was outlined for members of the Sequoia high school Japanese Club Tuesday by Lawrence Berger, night school teacher, who addressed a special evening meeting of the organization.

Going back to 1895, Berger mentioned historical incidents, treaties and relationships between China, Japan and Russia that have gradually built up to the present situation.

Berger had but recently returned to this country after a world tour on which he crossed Russia and Siberia, going on into Manchuria and North China, where he was at the outbreak of hostilities between China and Japan last July. He related his own experiences in the zone of hostility, but declared that people in America really knew more about what was happening than did those who were in the midst of the trouble.

Twenty-five members of the Japanese Club heard Berger's talk.

Fitzgerald Pays $500 For Shooting Doe

Changing a previous "not guilty" plea to one of "guilty" of shooting a doe, Harold J. Fitzgerald, Redwood City cafeman and former police officer, was fined $500 by Justice of the Peace Chester W. Moore in San Jose Wednesday and put on two years' probation, during which time he shall do no hunting.

Fitzgerald had been arrested near Milpitas the night of October 27 by Special Game Warden Jerome De Lopez, who found a doe, yet alive although suffering from a gunshot wound, in the rear of Fitzgerald's machine. Fitzgerald had been at liberty on $500 cash bail.

Move Is Made In Appreciation Of Clerk's Aid

City Councilmen Also Canvass Power Vote, Ask Franchise Tax

"In appreciation of the efforts put forth by Elmore B. Hinman in promoting the Port of Redwood City and for his work as president of the Board of Port Commissioners," a new road built at the local harbor today bears the name Hinman road.

Action to name the street after the county clerk, who at present is ill at his home at 427 Stambaugh street, was taken by the city council Monday on recommendation of the other four port commissioners: Henry A. Beeger, Elmer S. Hurrell, Edmund Scott and John E. McCarthy. Their recommendation was made known to the council in a letter signed by Walter F. Murphy, port manager.

The suggestion met instantaneous and enthusiastic support of the council, with the result that on motion of Councilman Evans A. Fletcher and second of Councilman James M. Eva, it was unanimously agreed to designate the thoroughfare Hinman road. The street in question connects the harbor facilities proper to Harbor boulevard, and is built over the filled-in land on city-owned property at the port.

FINAL VOTE RESULTS
As the council named the road and asked that Manager Murphy so advise the veteran county official, it asked, in the words of Mayor Paul A. McCarthy, that "an expression of sincere appreciation for the work he has done" also be conveyed to Mr. Hinman.

The council meeting had been called primarily to canvass the votes in last Tuesday's power bond election and to count the absent voters' ballots. Of the four absent voters, three voted "no" and one "yes" on both power propositions, leaving the final official results: No. 1, "yes," 687, "no," 1768; No. 2, "yes," 655, "no," 1781.

But it appeared to be a bad night for road naming. On petition of 26 residents of Valota road, and with no opposition voiced, the council voted on motion of Councilman Eva, second of Councilman Louis C. Christensen, to have the new thoroughfare which is being created with Valota road and Ramona and Pearl streets known only as Valota road. Thus Ramona from Redwood to Vera avenues and Pearl from Vera to Jefferson becomes known as Valota, as does that strip of new right-of-way which has been secured in order to cut the road through, making a new south-city lateral eligible for state gasoline tax funds for badly-needed repairs, expected now to be made soon.

The council also directed City Attorney Albert Mansfield to negotiate with the Pacific Gas and Electric Company for a franchise for their distribution here of gas and electricity. Such franchises, sold in exchange for a percentage on gross receipts, have been obtained by other cities. The return runs as high as 2 per cent on gross sales, Mayor McCarthy said he had been informed.

Other business at the 45-minute session, which preceded a brief meeting of the city planning commission, which found itself without business to transact, included: Determination to have City Park Superintendent Roger Walsh remove two oak trees from the circular park at Arch and Broadway to permit the better growth of a rare dead cedar.

Granting of permission to the Redwood City Tennis Club to stage a dance, without paying a fee, in the Woman's Clubhouse Saturday night.

Decision to increase the annual Red Cross contribution from $75 to $100.

Hearing, without taking action, of requests by Councilman Fletcher that Greyhound buses be prevented from turning in front of the Safeway store on Arch street, Fletcher averring that it was safer for them to go around the circular park, and that asserted speeding on El Camino Real be curbed. The matters were left to be discussed further in executive session of the council meeting as a committee of the whole to discuss civil service. The committee meeting was held in the city manager's office immediately following the council meeting in the firehouse auditorium.

At the committee meeting, besides studying civil service, which it was predicted, would be put into effect soon, the council was reported as having:

Asked City Manager Dimmitt to prepare cost estimates for widening Broadway between El Camino Real and Winslow street by cutting down sidewalks four feet on each side of the street.

Authorized striping of the newly-widened El Camino Real and the painting of speed limit warning signs on the road.

Ordered a two-hour parking

Reynolds May Yet Get Permit

Roger Reynolds may yet find a way to convert his property lying in the unincorporated area between Menlo Park and Atherton into an amusement center despite the opposition of the latter community and the San Mateo County Planning Commission.

If the Reynolds tract embracing the area between El Camino Real, the railway tracks, Cedar avenue and Encinal avenue and directly adjoining the Menlo Park city limits were annexed by that city the owner would be freed from compliance with the county zoning ordinance that prevented his operation of the proposed amusement center.

Annexation of the property was suggested Tuesday night at the meeting of the Menlo Park City Council by James T. O'Keefe Jr., city attorney as well as counsel for Reynolds during the latter's recent attempt to have the tract rezoned.

O'Keefe was authorized by the council to learn Reynolds' stand on annexation. Councilman Irving Dunn declared that other voters in the unincorporated area should be canvassed. If there is no opposition, he said, the city might make a wise move by annexing the whole district, thus adding much valuable property to its assessment roll.

The city council has already recorded itself as being in favor of the rezoning of Reynolds' property and the establishment of an amusement center.

Because Councilman Henry Carroll argued that any unusual expenditures at this time would unbalance the city's budget for the fiscal year, a proposal to modernize the heating system in the city hall was voted down. Councilman Harry Lusk had reported that adequate heating could be installed at a cost of $225 for gas or $480 to $500 for oil.

Applications by Samuel Mineker and W. S. Bower for building permits in the Partridge avenue district were denied, the council following the recommendation of Building Inspector John B. Glunz. Action transferring $900 from the city's gas allocation for highway maintenance to the state highway department was approved at the state's request.

Clarification of the duties of the city engineer and city attorney should be undertaken to obtain better cooperation between the branches of the municipal government, Councilman Dunn suggested. No action was taken.

Trustees Name New Officers

Mrs. Stella Jensen, member of the boards of trustees of both Jefferson Union High School in Daly City and of San Mateo Junior College, was elected president of the San Mateo County School Trustees Association at the group's annual meeting Saturday following a trustees' institute called at Sequoia high school by County School Supt. Pansy Jewett Abbott.

Serving with Mrs. Jensen for the coming year will be Franklin A. Oehm of Millbrae, vice president, and Victoria Roussell of Belmont, secretary.

Speakers at the institute session were Asst. Dist. Atty. Daniel E. Sullivan, who is in charge of legal affairs for the county schools, and Alfred Lentz, legal adviser to State Supt. of Instruction Walter Dexter.

Sullivan presented the tenure problem to open discussion of school legislation, and Lentz answered the problem, discussed recent acts of the state legislature relating to school trustees and answered questions from the group.

Musical entertainment was provided by Ross Axel, McKinley School pupil, who played two violin solos, "Old Refrain" by Kreisler and "La Golondrina," accompanied by Ronald Spink, director of music in the elementary and intermediate schools.

Miss Abbott presided at the institute session and introduced the various trustees present, later turning the meeting over to Mrs. Decima Allen of San Mateo for the trustees' annual meeting at which a report on the recent state convention of trustees was heard from A. S. W. Grundy of San Mateo Junior College.

Sixty-two trustees and school representatives attended the session. Redwood City representatives were Superintendent of Schools Andrew Spinas, C. M. Doozee and C. G. Uhlenberg, for the elementary board, and Principal A. C. Argo, Vice Principal Donald L. Bogie, George W. Merrill and Stuart W. Copps, for the high school board.

$5500 Damage Done to Home

Fanned by a high wind, fire ripped through the upper story of the Ralph W. Pindar residence on Atherton avenue, Atherton, resulting in damage of $5500, while a Menlo Park fire district crew battled it for three hours late Saturday afternoon.

Chief Thomas Cuff blamed a defective chimney as the cause of the blaze, which threatened to destroy the home completely before the firemen got it under control. Damage was confined to the roof, upper story, and furnishings as the

42 Boxes of Toys Leave Here for Guam

Members of the Junior Red Cross at Lincoln School have just packed 42 Christmas boxes to be sent to native children on the Island of Guam. The packages, which contain new gifts including crayons, jacks, balls, jump ropes, combs, tooth brushes and other articles, will be shipped on an army transport leaving November 15, according to Miss Adelaide Butts, principal.

fire district made use of its new 500-gallon pumper engine for the first time and laid four lines of hose into the Pindar grounds.

Law Hits Special Patrolman Twice In One Evening

Robert P. Dickinson, 26, special patrolman in the Woodside area, today was in possession of two documents, one a citation for speeding 65 miles per hour on Woodside road and the other a subpoena to appear in superior court November 12 to give a deposition in connection with his $25,000 suit against Sheriff James J. McGrath.

The papers were served simultaneously at 7:30 p.m. Saturday by State Highway Patrolman Lloyd Minehan and Deputy Sheriff Hugh Williams.

According to Minehan, he was traveling on Woodside road when Dickinson's car passed him in the opposite direction at high speed. He turned and gave chase, citing Dickinson for speeding and driving without an operator's license.

Dickinson claimed that he was on duty at the time, patrolling the area. He is scheduled to appear before Judge Edward I. McLaughlin

Julia Clarke, Aunt Of Mrs. Keenan, Dies

Miss Julia Clarke, 76, who had made her home with her niece, Mrs. Peter D. Keenan, of Hillcrest drive, Redwood City, passed away at 5:17 p.m. Saturday. Miss Clarke had been ill with heart trouble since coming here from Petaluma, where she was born and had made her home. She was the last of a large family which had included James, Thomas, William, Lawrence, Mary and Ellen Clarke and Mrs. J. McGoldrick, children of the late James and Mary Clarke.

on November 12.

While Minehan was writing the traffic tag, Williams got out of the patrol car and handed Dickinson the deposition, Dickinson said.

Edward A. Maskin, 26, one of Dickinson's deputies, was arrested by Capt. Paul Perussina on Bayshore highway at San Mateo for allegedly "hogging" the road and failing to give the right-of-way to a state car. He paid a fine.

Broken Leg Suffered In Sandlot Contest

If Julian Roldan, 18, Redwood City youth, takes any further part in football games this year, it will only be as a spectator. His playing days ended for many months late Saturday afternoon when he fell during a sandlot football game in Redwood City. Rushed to Community Hospital by his mother, Mrs. Annie Roldan, 132 Cypress street, the youth was found to have a fractured left leg.
